Background, doesn't scroll. Stays the same on every page, except for the about us page, where it goes to a quieter image.

Band name, website title.

Main content, scrolls vertically and becomes taller when you first scroll, to cover the NSP logo.

Page guide, doesn't scroll. Gives access to:

- >Home page (General introduction to the band)
- >Tours page (Place and time of performances, small description of venue)
- >Blog page (Updates on new albums, songs or videos, as well as a social media feed)
- >About us (Information about who Dan and Brian are, what NSP is, and why / how / when it was formed)
- >Contact (Email address for NSP, Twitter handles for Dan and Brian)
- >Search (Website-wide search that can find pages as well as blog posts)
- >Admin (Easily accessible admin login)

There won't be a footer unless one is necessary for legal reasons.

Mobile version crops background and menu away. Menu turns into a hamburger menu that also scrolls along with the page. The background fades in/out on scroll and the NSP logo appears on the upper bar when it has faded.
